**Hope you can attend the Parent/Principal meeting on February 24th. We will be discussing the MCL and Traditional programs and changes that have been happening at Camelot!!

**Thanks again to everyone for taking such meticulous care of our precious learners to maintain their good health and school attendance. The parents of this district understand the importance of each day of school and treat it with utmost reverence.

\* I had the good fortune of being in our nation's capitol this past week and with some bits of free time visited Lincoln Memorial, Jefferson and the Washington Monument among other stops. The words inscribed, written as timeless direction to our humility and debt we have at living American. We have responsibility to all that have come before and all that will come after to venerate the essence of this republic - and a good portion comes from not only honoring these heroes' words and deeds, but trying each day to walk in their footsteps. As an educator, that means I have the duty of helping learners know and live the meaning of the greatness of this country and the accounting they have to live as heroes also. It is the very best time to be alive, because it is possible for every American to have the opportunity to be a hero and stand for the likes of Lincoln, and Jefferson, and Kennedy, and King. Examine the true nature of freedom's opportunities and challenges, and celebrate this we have all been given. Have a great President's Day - and if you get a moment, remind your learner why we have a holiday. Not just to tribute our nation's most heralded leaders, but to be one yourself.*
